Commission Government.

At a meeting of the Commission Government Committee Tuesday night, Chairman Geo. E. Gary was authorized to appoint a campaign committee from all parties to make a whirlwind campaign next week to stir the people up on the question. A majority of the 2,200 registered voters in the city signed the petition asking the election, the most prominent leaders of all parties having endorsed the movement. The colored people also favor the plan, about 400 of them having signed the petition. The only opposition threatened is from machine politicians representing minority factions of both parties. It is not believed that these interested parties can muster a formidable following. View of the almost unanimous sentiment for a better municipal government. The Kentuckian today presents the full text of the new law to be voted upon. The present city officers would be allowed to serve out their terms, as the commission would not take charge until December 1915.

Secretary Daniels has designated the naval collier Jason as the official "Christmas ship" to carry gifts from the United States to the destitute of Europe. The Jason will sail from the Brooklyn navy yard Nov. 10 and probably will carry in addition to its cargo of gifts large quantities of stores and coal for the armored cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee now in Mediterranean waters.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT FOR CITY OF HOPKINSVILLE

Law That Would Apply to Hopkinsville is Printed Herewith---Get Ready to Vote Intelligently November 3.

For the benefit of the voters who will be called upon on November 3 to choose between the old councilmanic form of government and the newer plan, which is endorsed by President Wilson and political economists generally, as well as by cities where it has been put into operation, the Kentuckian comes to you this morning with a copy of the essential provisions of the commission government law printed in full.

Read it, study it and be ready to express yourself on it at the polls in November. It follows:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

That an act entitled "An act for the government of cities of the third class in the Commonwealth of Kentucky," which was approved June 14, 1893, and thereafter became a law, and the amendments thereto, which act and which amendments do now appear as article 4, of chapter 89 of the Kentucky statutes, in John D. Carroll's edition thereof, in 1909, be amended by adding thereto, at the end thereof, the following provisions:

Any city of the third class under the laws of the commonwealth of Kentucky that may become organized and be governed under the provisions of this act shall not change the corporate entity of any such city, but the body politic and corporate entity shall remain the same body that it now is.

All laws applicable to and governing cities of the third class and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall continue to apply to and govern each city that may organize under this act. And all by-laws, ordinances and resolutions in force in any such city and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall continue to be in force until altered or repealed in the manner provided for in this act.

It shall be the duty of the county judge in the county in which is located a city proposing to take the sense of its voters, as herein provided, upon the question of organizing and being governed under this act, upon the application by written petition signed by a number of the legal voters of said city equal to twenty per centum of the votes cast in said city at the last preceding general election, to receive said petition, and at the next regular term thereafter, to make an order on his order book directing an election to be held in said city at the next regular election and not earlier than sixty days after said application is lodged with the said judge, which order shall direct the sheriff, or other officer of said county who may be appointed to hold said election, to open the polls at each and all of the voting places in said city for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of said city upon the question as to whether or not the citizens in said city are in favor of the organization and government of said city under the provisions of this act. The question to be submitted to the voters shall be:

"Are you in favor of the organization and government of the city of Owensboro, under the provisions of an act to amend an act entitled, 'an act for the government of cities of the third class in the commonwealth of Kentucky,' which was approved June 14, 1893, and thereafter in due course became a law, and as same has since been amended, all of which said act and amendments now appear as article 4, of chapter 89, of the Kentucky statutes, in John D. Carroll's edition thereof, in 1914, which act was adopted by the general assembly of Kentucky, at the 1914 session thereof, and under which the members of the board of commissioners shall receive a salary of $1800 per year."

It shall be the duty of the county clerk to give to the sheriff of the county or to such other officer as may be appointed to hold said election, a certified copy of the order of the county court, as it appears on the order book, within five days after such order is made; and it shall be the duty of said sheriff, or other such officer, to have said order published in some weekly or daily newspaper, published or circulated in said county, for at least two weeks before the election, and also to advertise the same by printed or written handbills, posted in conspicuous places in said city, for the same length of time. If there is no weekly or daily newspaper published in said city, or the proprietor of said paper refuses to publish such notice, the printed or written handbills provided for, shall be sufficient notice. The sheriff or other such officer shall have the advertisement and notices herein provided for posted as herein required, within seven days after he receives the order of the county court. All elections provided for in this act, except the primary elections shall be held on the regular election day, by the regular election officers.

If it shall be found that a majority of the legal votes cast at the elections herein above provided for were given for or against said proposition submitted, it shall be the duty of the canvassing board to certify that fact, which certificate shall be delivered to the clerk of the county court and a copy thereof delivered to the clerk of the city, and at the next regular term of said court the county judge shall cause the same to be spread on the order book of said court, and the entry of said certificates in the order book, or copy thereof, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein contained.

When a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of organizing and governing the city under the provisions of this act, and said fact shall be certified as herein before provided, by the said canvassing board to the county clerk, a copy of which shall be certified to the city clerk, and said copy of said certificates shall be spread upon the records of said county, as herein provided, and upon the records of said city, and at the next regular meeting of the city council thereupon said city shall be organized and governed by the provisions of this act.

All the present city officers, save those of mayor and police judge and city prosecuting attorney, shall, at expiration of that year which shall next follow the year in which said election is held, be ipso facto abolished, if the vote at said city election shall be in favor of the organization and government of the city under this act. It is understood that the mayor, police judge and city prosecuting attorney shall hold their respective offices until the expiration of the term of office to which such officer was elected.

If the year in which such election under this act shall be held in any city, be an even year, and the vote shall be in favor of the organization and government of the city under the provisions of this act, then at the regular city election in the next following odd year, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city, two commissioners and a mayor, or, if the term of the then mayor will expire with such odd year, or two commissioners and a police judge, if the term of the then police judge will expire with such odd year. If the terms of the then mayor and police judge should both expire with such odd year, there shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city, two commissioners and a mayor and a police judge, but the term of office of such police judge so elected at the same time as the mayor is elected shall be for two years only. So that every two years as herein after provided, there shall be elected two commissioners and a mayor, or two commissioners and a police judge as the case may be.

Each applicant for nomination shall, at least ten days before the day for said primary election, file with the county clerk a petition signed by at least fifty voters and in the following form:

"We, the undersigned, qualified voters of the city of Hopkinsville, and residing either at the place indicated opposite his name signed hereto, do hereby request that the name _____ (naming the applicant,) be placed on the ballot as that of an applicant for nomination for the office of _____ (naming the office sought,) at the primary election to be held in our city on the third Saturday before the next regular election. We know the applicant to be a qualified voter of the city and a man of good character; and he is, in our judgment, qualified for the duties of the office sought by him."

Such petition shall be verified by the affidavit of some person or persons as to the genuineness of the signers.

No voter shall sign more than one such petition with reference to each office that is to be filled. In the event that a person shall sign more than one petition of applicants for nomination for mayor or police judge, or shall sign the petitions for more than two applicants for nominations for commissioners, then the name of said petitioner shall not be counted as a valid name on any of said petitions.

Names	Numbers	Streets

Immediately upon the expiration of the time for filing such petitions, the said county clerk shall cause to be published for three successive days in the official newspaper of the city, and in such other papers as he may designate, in proper form the names of the persons as they will appear upon the primary ballots; and the said clerk shall thereupon cause the primary ballots to be printed, authenticated with facsimile of his signature. Upon said ballots the names of said applicants for each nomination shall be placed in alphabetical order, with a square at the right of each name, and above the names of the applicants for nomination for may be, shall be printed the words, "Vote for one," and above the names of the applicants for commissioners shall be printed the words, "Vote for two."

The ballots shall contain no party designation, or emblem of any kind, nor any sign indicating any applicant's political belief, or party affiliation.

At such primary election the two applicants receiving the highest number of votes for nomination for mayor, or police judge, as the case may be, shall thereby be nominated; and the four applicants receiving the highest number of votes for nomination for commissioners shall be thereby nominated.

At the regular election held under this act, the names of the nominees shall be placed in alphabetical order upon the ballots different from those used at the nomination only in that they (the election ballots) shall contain only the names of the successful nominees receiving the greatest number of votes cast for mayor or police judge (as the case may be,) and the two commissioners receiving the greatest number of votes cast for commissioners, shall be elected respectively, mayor or police judge, (as the case may be) and commissioners.

Every fourth year after the election at which a mayor or two commissioners shall be elected, and at the corresponding times in the year, a primary election and a regular election shall be held in the same manner and for the same offices; and every fourth year after the election at which a police judge and two commissioners shall be elected, and at the corresponding times in the year, a primary election and regular election shall be held in same manner and for the same offices.

Any legal voter of not less than twenty-five years of age and possessing the other qualifications prescribed by law, shall be eligible to election to any office under this act.

The mayor shall be elected for a term of four years, beginning on the first Monday in January following his election; and he shall receive an annual salary of not less than five hundred dollars ($500.00) nor more than two thousand two hundred dollars ($2,200.00) to be fixed in the petition calling for the election under this act.

The commissioners shall be elected each for a term of two years beginning on the first Monday in January following his election; and each commissioner shall receive an annual salary of five hundred dollars ($500.00) to two thousand two hundred dollars ($2,200.00.) Provided, however, that the proposition for the organization and government of the city under the provisions of this act be adopted. The two commissioners elected in the next following even year, shall, as herein before provided, hold their office for the term of one year only.

The commissioner of each department shall keep a public office at the city building, at which place HE MAY BE FOUND OR COMMUNICATED WITH DURING STATED HOURS FIXED BY HIM FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF THE PUBLIC, unless special duty shall call him elsewhere.

The mayor and the two commissioners shall constitute a board of commissioners. In this board of commissioners shall be vested all the legislative, executive and administrative power of the city, as herein otherwise provided.

Two members of the board of commissioners shall constitute a quorum.

GERMANS EVERYWHERE REPULSED

Is Claim Made In Reports From The Paris Headquarters.

DESPERATE FIGHTING ON

Both Sides Agree That Situation Has Not Changed In The East.

Paris, Oct. 21.—The Germans attacked vigorously yesterday at several points on the line and were everywhere repulsed.

French marines under cover of a fog crept up to the German trenches and made a bayonet charge, killing many in the trenches and taking 400 prisoners.

At one place the French drove back the Germans and held the advanced line long enough to mine the position. They then fell back before the German attack and blew up the mines, annihilating three battalions.

The French artillerymen are careful in getting ranges and waste few shells. In an artillery duel near Armentieres the Germans fired for half a day into thickets that had been abandoned some time before. The French three-inch guns finally got the range and twelve shells silenced the German battery.

German and Russian reports agree that the situation in the east has not changed, although the armies are in close touch along the Prussian frontier and across Poland and Galicia. In Galicia, however, the Austrians claimed to have repulsed Russian attacks and to be making progress in their campaign to drive out the invaders.

The Russians, on the other hand, say they are making large numbers of prisoners. Heavy fighting is going on around Przemyśl.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Miss Lucas at her Home in Nashville.

Miss Lenora A. Lucas, formerly of this city, died suddenly in Nashville, Tenn., Sunday night. She sustained an injury to one of her limbs by a fall a few days before, which confined her to her bed, but the immediate cause of her death was an attack of heart failure or paralysis. She was 65 years old and a native of Halifax county, Virginia, but came to Kentucky with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vinus Lucas, when quite young. After the death of her parents she resided with her uncle, the late Robert Lucas, near Caledonia, for several years. Later she lived in Hopkinsville and removed to Nashville about three years ago. One brother, James Lucas, of the Antioch neighborhood, and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Taylor, of near this city, and Mrs. Amanda Shoat, of Myfield, survive.

The deceased was a member of the Christian church. The remains were brought here Monday, accompanied by her nephew, Mr. J. E. Taylor, formerly of this county, and were interred in Riverside Cemetery Tuesday morning. A short service was held at the grave by Rev. H. D. Smith.

FISCAL COURT

The Fiscal court met Tuesday and held a brief session. The principal business was to ratify the sale of a telephone franchise in the county to the Christian-Todd Telephone Co. This was done by unanimous vote.

A committee was appointed to secure a rock quarry near town, where the county prisoners could be worked.

PARASITES IN THE BLOOD

Woman Physician Who Has Been Investigating Malaria Has Published Her Report.Dr. Mary R. Lawson of New London has made a profound study of the parasites of malaria, those protozoa which are injected by mosquitoes into people's blood. In the Journal of Experimental Medicine
she publishes the results of her observation, the most generally interesting of which are as follows:The malarial parasite migrates from red corpuscle to red corpuscle,
destroying each before it abandons it.
In the brief intervals between, the parasite is free in the blood serum;
it does not remain long free, but almost immediately attaches itself to another red corpuscle.The destruction of more than one red corpuscle by each parasite would readily account for the severe and early anaemia occurring in malarial infections.Long-continued treatment with quinine will eventually cause the death of all malarial parasites.

One hundred years ago Swedish troops invaded Norway for the purpose of enforcing the terms of the treaty of Kiel, which had awarded Norway to Sweden as compensation
for the services of Marshal Bernadotte, then crown prince of Sweden. The Norwegians were displeased with the treaty and in solemn assembly had declared Norway a free and independent nation. The Swedes thereupon invaded the country. On the eve of a general engagement Marshal Bernadotte, who was advancing on Christiania, ordered a truce and proposed to the Swedish government that the Norwegian constitution be recognized, and the two countries unite under one sovereign. Norway assented, but the union did not prove satisfactory to her people and the movement for total independence begun in 1814 was completed in 1905.

MEMORIALS OF RED INDIANS

Young Sculptor, Resident in Paris,
Has Procured Clay Studies
of His Subject."If the American people are to be fairly endowed with numismatic memorials of the red Indians it will be chiefly because of the initiative of Edward Warren Sawyer, a young sculptor resident in Paris, who has devoted several years to the procuring of clay studies from life of representatives of that race," says Briggs Davenport in the Southern Workman."He has made periodic visits to the reservations beyond the Missouri and has spent many months in wigwam villages and at government agencies, getting famous or typical Indians to pose for him and forming the maquettes in their presence. Returning to Paris with these first fruits of his labor, he prepares the molds from his modeled bas-reliefs and casts the medals himself in a furnace erected in a corner of his picturesque studio in the Rue Fil-guiere."The idea of making a series of medallic portraits of typical Indians had been in Mr. Sawyer's mind for several years. The cost of its realization was, for him, a serious difficulty. The young sculptor tried to get the men in charge of the great museums of his country to take a direct and helpful interest in his scheme, but could not. So at last he assumed all the initial pecuniary risk himself. It was a generous act, which only genius that is confident in itself can justify. He mortgaged a great part of his future to secure a large personal loan. After that he set out upon the longest of his tours among the Indians, again visiting Arizona, and later New Mexico, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Montana and South Dakota."Mr. Sawyer was born in Chicago in 1876. He first exercised his aptitude as a boy in a wood carver's shop in the intervals of schooling. He has since studied in Paris and in Rome.
In 1904 he received the bronze fine arts medal at the St. Louis exposition."

as "a perennial pest, one of the most troublesome weeds of the prairie sec-

declare it a pest, but advise its eradication by plowing it up, root and branch."If the plowing can be done in August or in early September," says Prof. Andrew Boss, "and the land disked several times at intervals of a week or ten days, the roots will almost surely be destroyed. Its deep, perennial, underground stems make it very persistent. The best remedy is plowing thoroughly with a sharp plow, cutting the entire furrow slice
so that all the roots will be cut off clean."

SPECIAL TO WOMEN
The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine
A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.
As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal.
For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority.
Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At

IMPORT CHROMIC IRON ORE
South Africa Furnishes Greatest Part
of Amount That is Used in the United States.

Production of chromic iron ore in the eastern portion of the United States, where the demand is greatest, ceased years ago. The supply is now obtained wholly by importation, mainly from South Africa. California has been the only producing state for nearly a decade. Deposits have been found in 32 counties in that state, but practically the whole output in 1913 came from one mine near Dunsmuir, in Shasta county.
Chromite is one of the most difficult minerals to fuse. It will stand a temperature of about 2,180 degrees Centigrade, and this marked resistance to heat makes it valuable for refractory purposes, furnace hearths,
chrome bricks for lining furnaces,
etc. A large amount is consumed in the manufacture of pigments, dyes and various chemical compounds, as well as for tanning, in which it imparts to the leather softness and durability under exposure to dampness.
The most rapidly growing use of chromite is metallurgical, in the manufacture of steel alloys. Chromium gives to steel a marked degree of hardness, and if added in the proper proportion does not produce brittleness.

Wastefulness.
The average wheat production per acre in Minnesota is about thirteen bushels. In Denmark it is 38; in Holland, 34; in England, 32 bushels. Politicians talk of the conservation of national resources. What of the conservation of soil values, the greatest asset the nation has? And what of the wastefulness which extracts from the soil but one-third of the riches it is capable of bearing? The prodigality of congress, the wanton carelessness of cities, the improvidence of our spendthrifts are of minimum importance compared with the agricultural waste in potential yields and the strange madness that changes annually thousands of prospectively good farmers into mediocre and sallow flat dwellers.—Public Ledger.

SQUIRRELS SKIP ON WIRE

Tiny Animals Perform Daring Aerial Feats to Outwit Nut Thieves
of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia.—There has been a crowd of Kensingtonians in Norris square, Diamond and Hancock streets, every day since it was discovered that the squirrels the Kensington Board of Trade put into the open space several years ago will perform incredible
climbing feats for a nut.

The discovery was made by a young man who spends much of his time studying zoology, botany, and such things. He threw a nut to a squirrel in the square, expecting to see it do
the usual stunt, which is to carry it up a tree and hide it. Instead the little animal skipped across the lawn and ascended a telegraph pole with lightning speed.

While the naturalist looked on amazed, the busy little creature, holding the prized nut firmly, skipped lightly along the insulated wiring to Hancock street. It then hopped to another wire which leads to the roof of St. Basil's Catholic church. Running along the wire with the grace of the daintiest tight-rope walker, the little animal deposited the nut in a crevice near the roof of the edifice,
and then returned to the square by the same route.

The answer is that the squirrels do not trust their old hiding places in the park. They have evidently been robbed of some food they had worked laboriously for days to store up. At least, that is the way the dopesters
in the daily audience have it figured out. It would be a nutty squirrel, they think, that would risk its life and dignity in such a manner just for a nut.

The performances are held daily.
All that is necessary is to give one of the little animals a nut, and the show begins.

SMILE OR FROWN IS PROBLEM

London Divided as to Whether Medical Men Should Jest With Patients or Look Solemn.

London.—Whether a physician should adopt the cheery manner of bygone days or wear a look of business-like solemnity, is the controversy
raised in the London press by Lord Rosebery, who in a speech at Epsom college, said he would rather a thousand times be treated by a third-rate doctor with genial features than a first-rate man of repellent countenance.

"The old-fashioned type, who entered rubbing his hands, poked the patient in the ribs and started to tell him jokes," replies one physician,
"would have a hard time holding his practice these days."

Lord Rosebery answers that the doctor best liked by the modern patient is the one who listens gravely and ends by saying, "I know exactly what the trouble is." The main reason why the grave doctor is liked is because he is a good listener, and patients love to do the talking when it comes to their troubles.

"Nearly everyone prefers the doctor with the cheerful manner, providing he has a good record of cures," concludes the writer, "to the sunny duffer who is as likely to kill you as not."

CAT IS RESCUED BY BIG DOG

Angora, Worsted in Flight, Saved From Sea by the Conquering
Canine.

Long Beach, Cal.—An unusual rescue from drowning was enacted in the ocean at the end of the pier here,
"Ted," a Scotch collie belonging to Captain Walton, and "King," an angora cat, being the actors. The cat has made its home at the end of the pier, and while defending itself from the dog, fell overboard.

The dog watched the struggles of the cat in the water until its master ordered "Teddy" to get him. Immediately the dog jumped into the water from the gangplank under the pier,
and, in further obedience to his master, grasped by the neck the frightened cat, which had been clinging to a piling. "King" was brought to safety in the mouth of the faithful collie.

NEW RENAISSANCE AT HAND

Conditions in America to Lead to Development of a Great Science and a Great Art.

Culture, the sciences, and the industrial arts are stimulated by much the same conditions, says the Engineering magazine. In the seventh and sixth centuries B. C., the conditions which aroused the Greek settlements led almost simultaneously
to the rise of industry, the fine arts, and systematic thinking. In the Italian Renaissance the new ideas derived from contact with the East in trade, and with the ancients in culture, produced not only the merchant princes of Florence and Venice, but also the artists, and the pioneers of science. In America, today, conditions resemble those which existed in the periods just mentioned. Here there is not only boundless opportunity, but the old world traditions which would have closed these opportunities to the masses have been broken. Here the contrasts between rich and poor are so sharp as to awaken even the dullest minds to the drama of life. Inasmuch as people are aroused in proportion as that which they desire seems attainable to them, a bold and even audacious courage prevails; talent is keenly appreciated, and an immense fund of energy is released.

The first result of this energy is a stupendous industry. The next results of it will be in America, as in Greece and Italy, a great science and a great art. Modern America, indeed, represents a new Renaissance,
now in progress.

NEW TREATMENT FOR INSANE

South African Physician Claims to Have Secured Good Results by Use of Oxygen.

A new and extraordinary use for oxygen has just been found by Doctor Toulouse, chief physician of the Villeguif (South Africa) Insane asylum. He finds it a most valuable aid in the treatment of madness.

Doctor Toulouse makes certain that the oxygen in the steel cylinders in which he receives it is pure and free from nitrogen; then he fills small glass flasks with it. A rubber bulb enables him to regulate the pressure
in the flasks, and a rubber tube connects these with a fine hypodermic needle. Through this 250 cubic centimeters of oxygen are injected under the skin.

A physician who has watched the operation and its effects upon patients says the results are remarkable among patients in a condition of acute mental confusion, who are always greatly improved and often cured entirely by a few injections.
The excited and victims of insomnia become calm and lucid.

In case of acute mania, dementia,
epileptic fits and certain cases of melancholia good results have been obtained. The oxygen treatment is now being tried upon other forms of insanity.

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation.
Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.
Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the story that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades;
through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof.
Duruy explains in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

A Lucky Find.

(Danville Messenger)
Mrs. W. D. Ferrell, who resides on the Rolling Fork, near Gravel Switch, and is the wife of W. D. Ferrell, who died several months ago, while examining some papers recently found a receipt for a premium paid on an insurance policy. She remembered that her husband had taken out a policy about ten or twelve years ago. She also remembered she had insisted that he allow the policy to lapse and use the money he was paying on same, while living, which he did. Continuing the examination she found the policy and was agreeably surprised to find it was one of these extension policies, on which four premiums had been paid and which kept the policy in force until 1915. Proof of Mr. Ferrell's death was sent the company, and last week Mrs. Ferrell received a check for over a thousand dollars. We often hear the expression when one secures money without effort, "it was like finding it." Surely that expression is applicable in this instance.

Forest Notes.

As many as 72 different kinds of wood are used in the manufacture of umbrella handles, canes and whips in this country.

Authentic records show that cinders, from a forest fire in the tree tops in northern Washington this fall, were carried a distance of twenty miles.

According to the latest available figures, Pennsylvania stands fifth in the production of wood pulp and is second to West Virginia in the amount of elms and other sawmill waste used for pulp; Maine stands third.

The better wood engravings are made almost exclusively of boxwood, and the large blocks are made of small pieces glued together. The engraving is done across the end of the grain. Japanese wood prints, on the other hand, are made on length-wise sections of cherry wood parallel to the grain.

Throughout the national forests the rangers are posting the roads with permanent guide signs which tell distances and directions, especially at forks and cross-roads. The signs are usually put up in the winter when other work tends to be light. On some forests the rangers go on snowshoes, dragging loaded sleds and nail the signboards to the roadside trees.

The "Undressed" Kid.

Little girl, you look so small!
Don't you wear no clothes at all?
Don't you wear no shimmy skirt;
Don't you wear no petticoat?
Just your corset and your hose—
Are these all your underclothes?
Little girl, when on the street,
You appear to be all feet,
With your dress so very light,
Surely, you're an awful sight.
Nothing on to keep you warm;
Crazy just to show your form.

Little girl, you won't live long,
Just because you dress all wrong.
Can't you wear more underclothes
Than your corset and your hose?
After while I do believe
You will dress like Mother Eve.—

"Twilight Sleep" Babies.

Bearing "great news of good fortune" for women, Miss Margaret Tracy has returned to the United States and told how 8,000 babies had been born in Freiburg, Germany, without their mothers suffering the least pain. "This is news of the greatest importance to the race," said Miss Tracy, who has worked earnestly to have the twilight sleep method of birth adopted on this side, "for it means that women will cease to fear the pain of bearing children. There will be more children and the world will be better." Miss Tracy was enthusiastic concerning her investigations in the hospitals at Freiburg, where the twilight sleep was devised. With her in Europe was her sister, Mrs. Cecil Stewart, and the latter's baby, James, who was born eighteen months ago under the new method, and who was one of the first children to be so born in this country. Miss Tracy says that the 8,000 babies born in Freiburg are healthier, stronger and happier than any other 8,000 babies born by the old method.

Turkey Hen Adopts a Quail.

(Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat.)
A turkey hen at a farmhouse on Piqua pike has as one of her brood a young partridge. The partridge trudges along with the little turkeys, eats with them and at night goes up on the roost with them, invariably huddling under the protecting wing of the mother hen, which shows every kindly consideration to the new and singular addition to her interesting family. Where the partridge came from no one knows, but it is supposed to have been separated from a flock while quite young and coming in contact with the turkey hen and her brood allied itself with them for offensive and defensive purposes.

CHAMPIONSHIP DRAWS NEAR

One More Victory and High School Will Win The Honor.

The Orange and Black continued its winning streak on Monday by defeating the strong Princeton High School team 20-0. The Princeton team put up a fierce battle, but were unable to cope with the science of the Hopkinsville aggregation.

The game started with Princeton receiving. Hard line plunges and end runs put the ball well up the field, when H. H. S. held for downs. The ball saw-sawed back and forth for the remainder of the quarter with little advantage to either side.

In the second quarter, High recovered the ball, and worked well down the field. A forward pass from Lackey to Breathitt put the ball over, at a 25 yard run, Weak's interfering Breathitt kicked goal. H. H. S. 7, P. H. S. 0.

High School scored again in the next period, when Lackey plowed over for the second down. Breathitt again kicked the ball through the uprights for a 14-0 tally.

Higgins scored the third point when he plunged through the weakening Princeton line for a touchdown.

All the team played hard, consistent ball. The work of Dabney and Moss deserves especial mention for its defensive value. Breathitt and Weak's put up their usual steady game, while Lackey gained through the line with ease. The team maintained its reputation of not having its goal line crossed this year.

Owensboro is the next game, and upon it hinges the championship of Western Kentucky. By eliminating Princeton, who was able to hold down Paducah, High School places herself again in the limelight for this usual honor. By winning from Owensboro Saturday, the team will be on a par with other famous High School teams of 1907, 1909, 1911 and 1912.

The line up and score was as follows: Skerritt c., Dabney l.g., Lander l.t., Breathitt l.e., Weaver and Torian r.g., Moss r.t., Weak's r.e., F. & J. Higgins r.h., Moseley, Brown l.h., J. and P. Roberts q.b., Lackey f.b. Touchdowns—Breathitt, Higgins, Lackey. Goals—Breathitt 2 out of 3. Time of quarters 10 minutes. Referee—Hester.

Virginia Street Won.

The Virginia Street football team defeated the West Side eleven Tuesday afternoon, by the decisive score of 18-6. The game was held at Mercer's Park before the High School scrimmage and was hotly contested.

Not on the Menu.

Prospects of a good meal were not bright, but the fly-blown eating-house was the only thing of its kind in the neighborhood, so Johnson had no choice but to enter and try his luck. Entering the dingy dining room, he seated himself at a table covered by a stained cloth. A depressed waiter sauntered in eventually, and nearly fainted on beholding a customer. "Have you any cold pie?" queried Johnson. "Er-no, sir!" "Any chicken?" "Er-no, sir!" "Well, I suppose I can have some beef, can't I?" "Er-no, sir!" "What on earth have you got in the house, then?" "Er—the sheriff, sir!"

Profits in Ostriches.

Very large profits are being made from ostrich farming in South Africa. In the Oudtshoorn district many ostrich farmers have become extremely wealthy. One farmer in Cradock states that from two pairs of breeding birds he raised in three and a half years 240 birds, valued at £15 each. Another states that from one pair of good breeding birds his net profit for one year amounted to over £800.

Laughs at "Neurasthenia."

Each day sees some cherished illusion knocked on the head. Among the latest to be remorselessly brained by the rough hand of the scientific investigator is the notion that the country is healthier than the city. A modern, a very modern, novelist represents a London physician as scoffing at what he termed the "neurasthenia joke."

MAN WAS ENJOYING HIMSELF

Chirpful Party at Chautauqua Entertainment Insisted on Having All the Amusement Possible.

The conversation at a social session in Washington the other night turned to the proficiency of some people in the matter of making sarcastic remarks when Congressman P. Padgett of Tennessee was reminded of an incident that recently happened at a Chautauqua entertainment.

In the audience was a man who insisted on talking aloud to the great annoyance of those about him. More than one scowling look was cast in his direction, and finally an esteemed citizen became indignantly eloquent.

"Look here, young man," he exclaimed, shaking a finger in the direction of the offender, "don't you know that you are annoying everybody in the house? Can't you stop talking and let us enjoy the lecture?"

"Oh, I don't know," was the cool response of the chirpful party. "I paid for my ticket and I don't know why I'm not entitled to all the privileges that go with it."

"Let him talk, mister," suddenly interposed a small boy. "He works in a deaf and dumb asylum, and this is his night off."

They Passed It, All Right.

Mrs. Peck—What were you doing on Main street this afternoon with that Miss Peachblow?

Henry Peck—Oh, I just met her and passed the time of day with her, that was all.

Mrs. Peck—That was all, was it? You paraded up and down the street with her for two hours! Is that what you call passing the time of day with her?

Henry Peck—Why, yes, dear. We went by a dozen street clocks, you know.—Springfield Union.

STUNG.

Swift—So you've just come from the seashore? Did you enjoy the breakers?

Smith—Not much; I've had sad experiences with those summer girls.

Just Like a Girl.

"Yes, we had a falling out."

"Really, Grace?"

"Yes, and I decided then and there to break the engagement."

"Gorgeous, dear!"

"I wrote him a letter—but I—I tore it up."

"My!"

"Then I wrote him another letter and tore that up too."

"Oh!"

"But the third letter I didn't tear up. Mustering all my courage and burying all pangs of regret, I took it to the mail box, and then—"

"Ah, and then? Tell me!"

"I didn't drop it in."—Pearson's Weekly.

A Comfortable Calling.

"So," said the visitor, "you intend to become a physician when you grow up?"

"Yes, sir," said the youth.

"And why have you decided upon the medical profession?"

"Well, a doctor seems to be the only man that keeps on getting paid whether his work is satisfactory or not."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Speaking of Matches.

Bacon—I see it stated that one fire in every ten in New York is caused by matches.

Egbert—And one marriage in about every ten there is unhappy.

"What's that got to do with it?"

"Why, both statements show that New Yorkers are careless with matches."

An Expression of Sympathy.

"Any good actor, is overlooked because he does not get a proper opportunity," remarked the stage manager.

"Yes," replied the producer. "When you think of such men as Forrest and Booth it seems a shame that they couldn't have had a chance at the moving pictures."

Industrious Family.

"What do you raise here?" asked the horseback traveler of a boy who was playing on a little mountain farm in West Virginia.

"I raise corn an' pertaters," said the boy; "maw raises chickens and when paw comes back from the artil he raises Cain."—Baltimore Sun.

A Metropolitan Air.

First Passenger (looking out of car window)—Hello! Here we are in Chicago. I didn't suppose we'd got there yet.

Second Passenger—It does look like Chicago, but it can't be. Ah, I see! We are passing through a forest fire.—Luck.

CLEAN UP DAY AT CASKY

Last Friday was set apart by the trustees and teachers of the Casky school as a general clean up day. All the patrons in the district had been notified and asked to come and give one day's work to the school. The County Superintendent had also agreed to come and assist in the work. In spite of the unfavorable appearance of the weather the Superintendent, trustee, teachers, pupils and about thirty patrons came early in the morning and remained until late in the afternoon cleaning up and making such repairs as were needed around the school house. Superintendent, L. E. Foster, took charge of the painting while Dr. Sandbach directed most of his attention to the underpinning of the house, and the building of stalls for the patrons' horses. A large room about 20x33 was painted during the day, also a cloak room was painted and the blackboards were reslated. One carpenter put in the entire day repairing locks, desks and windows. A large number of ladies were present and they cleaned windows, painted (the walls), cleaned floors and at the noon hour spread for the entire crowd a bountiful dinner. The Principal, Mr. Lowe G. Johnson, had charge of the setting up of the new desks and repairing of old ones, while his assistant, Miss Hallie Clark, was busy directing the cleaning up inside and welding the paint brush herself. Dr. Sandbach with his out-door crew underpinned the house with rough lumber, and aside from cleaning up of the grounds, built seven stalls to be used by the patrons. This matter of building stalls is quite a desirable feature in connection with the rural schools as it furnishes comfortable quarters for the horses during the day, consequently the pupils can come to school regardless of the weather. The paint that was used cost about $6.00 and one bale of shingles was used to repair the roof, thirty feet of chalk rail was put up and since the patrons furnished their own lumber for stalls and the underpinning the entire expense of the day was not more than $10.00 and it is a fair estimate to say that $100.00 worth of work was done during the day.

This merely goes to show what can be done in one day if all the patrons will co-operate, and at how little an expense the school house and grounds may be entirely renovated. Casky school is one of the very best in the county and they have two teachers, as above stated, who are energetic and who teach not merely for the salary they receive but for interest and the general welfare of the school and of the community. The trustee, Dr. Sandbach, is a live wire and he takes genuine pleasure in the matter of building up and establishing a great school at Casky. The patrons responded readily to the calls for help and the pupils manifested their willing dispositions to assist in any work they could do. In short, everybody connected with the Casky school has the proper spirit and with these forces combined we can only predict a great future for the Casky school. It is to be hoped that many of the other districts will see the work that has been done at Casky at this one clean-up day and that many, if not, all of the schools, will fall in line and revolutionize their school and school interest in the district.

but the affirmative vote of at least two members shall be necessary to the adoption of any motion, resolution or ordinance, to the making or approval of any contract, or to the passage of any measure.

Upon each vote the yeas and nays shall be recorded and each motion, resolution and ordinance shall be reduced to writing and read before the vote is taken thereon.

The mayor shall preside at meetings of the board. He shall have no veto power. But each resolution, motion or ordinance shall be signed by him, or by two commissioners and recorded before it shall take effect.

Every ordinance or resolution ordering the construction or reconstruction of any street or sewer, or other public work, or making or authorizing any contract involving the expenditure of more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or granting any franchise or the right to use or occupy the streets, highways, bridges or public places of the city for any except a merely temporary purpose, shall after its introduction and before its adoption remain on file at least one week FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION in the completed form in which it shall be put upon its final passage; and no such ordinance or resolution shall go into effect until the expiration of ten days after its passage, except in case of emergency, the public health or safety shall require it to take immediate effect, which fact shall be declared by the board of commissioners.

The board of commissioners shall meet at least once a week for the transaction of its business. It shall fix, by ordinance, the times of holding its regular meetings. Any special meeting may be called by the mayor or by two commissioners. All meetings shall be public.

The administrative functions of the city shall be classified under six departments, to-wit:

1. Department of public affairs.
2. Department of public finance.
3. Department of public safety.
4. Department of public works.
5. Department of public property.
6. Department of public health.

The board of commissioners shall determine the functions of each department and shall prescribe the duties of its commissioners and of his employees. It may assign any employee to one or more departments, or require any employee to perform duties in two or more departments. It shall make all such rules and regulations as to the conduct of the various departments as may be necessary and proper for the efficient and economic conduct of the business of the city.

The mayor shall be the commissioner of the department of public affairs and public health; and he shall have a general advisory supervision over the affairs of all of the departments.

The board of commissioners shall, at its first regular meeting, designate by majority vote one commissioner to have superintendence of the department of public finance; one other commissioner to have superintendence of the department of public safety; one other commissioner to have superintendence of the department of public works; and one other commissioner to have superintendence of the department of public property. Each commissioner shall have charge of two departments.

The board of commissioners shall also at its first meeting or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, appoint all such employees as may be necessary for the proper and efficient conduct of the affairs of the city.

All such employees shall be agents, not officers of the city, and they shall perform such duties, and for such compensation as the board of commissioners may by ordinance prescribe. Each employee shall be selected WITH REFERENCE SOLELY TO HIS FITNESS, and for the good of the public service, without reference to his political faith or party affiliation, and the board of commissioners shall adopt such rules and regulations looking to the appointment and discharge of employees as will tend to carry out the spirit of this provision and lead to the establishment of the merit system in public service.

The board of commissioners shall at the termination of each month of the fiscal year cause to be printed in a newspaper published in such city, an itemized statement of all receipts and expenditures of the city during the month.

At the termination of each fiscal year, the board of commissioners shall cause one or more competent accountants to make a complete examination of the books and accounts of the city, and shall cause the result of such examination to be published in pamphlet form to be given to each voter who may apply for same at the proper office.

A vacancy shall exist when any elective officer fails to qualify within ten days after notice of his election, or dies, (or resigns,) or moves his domicile outside of the city, or remains outside of the city for a period of six months, or is convicted of felony, or is judicially declared insane, or is removed from office in any manner.

In case of misconduct, inability, or wilful neglect in the performance of the duties of his office, the mayor or any commissioner may be removed from office by an unanimous vote of the other two members of the board of commissioners. But no such officer shall be so removed without having been given the right to have a full public hearing with representation by counsel, and with witnesses summoned in his behalf and required to testify. The findings of fact at such hearing, and the reason for any such removal, shall be stated in writing and filed as a matter of public record. But the officer, if removed, shall have the right of appeal to the circuit court of the county, and be tried de novo.

If during the ten days next following the passage of any such ordinance as cannot within said ten days become effective, a petition signed by a number of voters equal to at least 25 per centum of the total number of votes cast for both candidates for mayor at the last preceding regular election for mayor, stating the residence of each signer, and verified as to signatures and residences by the affidavits of some one or more persons, shall be presented to the board of commissioners, protesting against the passage of such ordinance, such ordinance shall be suspended from going into effect, and shall be reconsidered by the board of commissioners. If such ordinance be not then repealed, the board shall submit to the voters of the whole city, at either a special or regular election according to law, the following question: "Shall the ordinance (briefly describing it,) go into effect?" and if a majority of the votes cast upon such question be in the negative, the ordinance shall not go into effect. But if a majority of the votes cast upon such question be in the affirmative, the ordinance shall go into effect as soon as the result is officially ascertained and declared.

If a petition signed by a number of voters equal to at least twenty-five per centum of the total number of votes cast for both candidates for mayor, at the last preceding regular election for mayor, stating the residence of each signer, and verified by affidavits of some one or more persons as to the signatures and residences, requesting the board of commissioners to pass an ordinance therein set forth—if such petition be presented to the board of commissioners, and if the ordinance therein requested to be passed be one that the board has a legal right to pass, then the board shall either pass such proposed ordinance without alteration, within ten days after such petition is filed, or submit the question of its passage to the voters of the city at the next regular election. At such election the question submitted shall be: "Shall the proposed ordinance (briefly describing it,) be passed?" If the majority of the votes cast upon said question be in the affirmative, the proposed ordinance shall be thereby passed, and shall become effective, as soon as the result is officially ascertained and declared. And such ordinance shall not be amended or repealed, except by the voters at a regular biennial city election. Any number of proposed ordinances, requested by petition, as above provided for, may be voted on at any election.

The board of commissioners may submit the question of the repeal or amendment of any such ordinance to the voters at any succeeding regular city election, and if a majority of the votes cast on such a question be in favor of the repeal or amendment, such ordinance shall be thereby repealed, or amended, as the case may be.

Whenever a question of passage of a proposed ordinance, or of the going into effect, or the repeal, or the amendment of an ordinance is to be submitted to the voters at an election the board of commissioners shall cause the proposed ordinance or ordinances, or the ordinance or amendment, as the case may be, to be printed once in the official newspaper of the city, and in such other newspaper as the board of commissioners may direct, before such election.

The expenses of all primary elections under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the city.

The mayor and each commissioner shall execute a bond to the city, upon which an action may be maintained by any person or persons interested in the keeping of the covenants therein contained, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00), conditioned upon the faithful performance of his official duties; such bonds to be approved by the county judge, and filed as matters of public record.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to the organization, existence, or conducting the affairs of the board of education, but such board of education shall be required to render to the board of commissioners an itemized monthly statement of all receipts and expenditures.

Whenever the citizens of any city, which shall have been organized and governed under the provisions of this act for a period of not less than four years, shall desire that the organization and government of such city terminate and cease, and said citizens shall file with the county judge of the county in which is located such city, written petitions signed by a number of the legal voters of said city equal to thirty-three and one-third per centum of the votes cast in said city at the last preceding general election, it shall be the duty of the county judge of said county to receive said petition and at the next regular term thereafter to make an order on his order book, directing an election to be held in said city at the next regular election.

DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

Meeting Held at Gracey Last Saturday, Oct. 17.

Although the elements were rather unfriendly to the cause the teachers of Educational Division No. 4 held their association meeting at Gracey as had been planned and announced. The rain during the day was so constant and the roads were so bad that many of the teachers were unable to attend. However, there was a good crowd present, considering the inclemency of the weather. The meeting was held at the Gracey Graded School building under the leadership of Mrs. Nora Williamson, President, and Miss Lillian Brasher, Secretary. Patrons of the Gracey Graded School had prepared a delightful dinner which was served in one of the recitation rooms and all hands present, even the speakers ate until they were almost too full for utterance.

The program was as follows:
Song—America.
Five Essentials To Successful Teaching—Supt. L. E. Foster.
The Preparations Of The Pupil—Supt. J. W. Marion.
The Value Of The Short Story—Prof. B. F. Brown.
Every Day English—Supt. L. E. Foster.
Girls Canning Clubs—Mrs. Chas. Graves.
English In The Grades—Miss Mary Effie Means.
Practical Manual Training—Prof. Sweet.
Closing Remarks—Prof. G. O. Bryant.

"VILLAIN" POPULAR WITH ALL

Leading Men in Photoplays Has Thankless Roles Which He Lifts to Distinction.

Bryant Washburn, one of the "heavy" men of a leading eastern stock company, is a handsome and extremely popular favorite with photoplay fans, even though his work is of the "villainish" and thankless type. Washburn is now completing his third year with the "movies," and in that time has portrayed scores of effective studies in an unlimited range of films, including melodramas, dramas, comedies and farces. He has had long stage experience, playing for several seasons with George Fawcett in his well-known successes. Was with Miss Percy Haskwell in stock at the Royal Alexandria theater, in Toronto, and starred for a season in Eugene Walter's "The Wolf." He has also been associated with such successes as "The Remittance Man," "The Great John Ganton," and "The Fighter." Mr. Washburn is a splendid photographic subject in photoplays and his work is always effective and clean-cut. He is well remembered in such films as "Married, After All," "The Grip of Circumstance," "The Conqueror," and many others.

KNOWN AS "GIRL OF THE AIR"

Miss Adele Rey Has Achieved Distinction Outside of Her Successes in Motion Pictures.

One of the many pretty girls who have deserted the legitimate stage to contribute to the thrills and throbs of the motion picture plays is Miss Adele Rey. Miss Rey has just finished a season of four months with a motion picture company where she was featured as Miss Beautiful, the Mystery Girl and the Society Girl. She has also acquired a sobriquet of "The Girl of the Air," because of her flights with well-known aviators. As a result of her fame in this connection, she has recently been invited to visit Russia to fly for the Russo Aero club. At present she contemplates taking part in the trans-Atlantic trip which Lieutenant Forte will navigate and which Mr. Rodman Waaamaker is financing.

Ram More Than Match for Lion. Fred Wright, director of one of the first motion picture studios, who has just returned to New York from St. Augustine, Fla., tells an interesting story of a recent attempt to produce a Roman picture in which it was necessary to show a lamb and a lion together. He scoured the surrounding country for a lamb to take the part, but the best he could do was to get hold of a sturdy and warlike ram. The lion was placed in the arena with the lion and the camera man got into action. So did the lion and the ram. The lion made a jump for the woolly stranger, and as he was rising from the ground the ram shot forward like a bolt from the blue and delivered a smashing blow upon the lion's stomach. The lion fell over backward, and before he could recover himself he received another jolt from the gallant ram, which took all the fight out of him. From then on it was a procession, with the lion in the lead. Another lion was introduced, and the same thing repeated. This lion was whipped to a finish also, and the fierce little fighter received from the director the life for which he had fought so well.

Moving Up in Profession. Dorothy Gish is fast overcoming a handicap. She was known for a long time only as "the little sister of Lillian Gish." Now, however, she has been given a good part in "Judith of Bethulia," and starred in the Hellene features, "The Mysterious Shot" and "The Mountain Rat." Her sister must now look to her laurels.

Favorite to Return. Laura Oakley, who has been missing from motion pictures, will soon be seen again in photo plays. Miss Oakley returned recently to the western studio after a vacation in the mountains, having three months, where she has been hunting, horse-back riding, hunting, fishing and sleeping out of doors.

Three Jack London Productions. Hobart Bosworth is producing three Jack London films at one time. Myrtle Stedman is said to be an ideal Joy in "Smoke Believ," in which she plays opposite Jack Conway. She is also the Dede in "Burning Daylight" and the girl in "The Odyssey of the North."

Old-Time Punishments.
A mode of punishment in the early days was that of performing penance in church. Bishop Meade, in his "History of the Virginia Church," tells how offenders would stand in church, wrapped in white sheets, with white wands in their hands. In 1681, in Salem, Mass., two women were so adorned in white and placed on stools in the center of the aisle of the meeting-house, having on their heads a paper bearing the name of their crime. A popular punishment for the drunkard was to place him in a large-sized barrel, with the bottom removed, and two places made on the sides for his hands to come through, and the victim of Bacchus thus walked through the streets with his head and legs alone showing from a huge barrel.

VARIOUS KINDS OF DOCTORS

When One Hears Man So Addressed
It Is Not Safe to Assume He Is a Physician.

Doctor probably means a physician to you, and the title is widely and generally used as descriptive of a member of the medical profession, says a writer in the American Boy. Yet there are a great many "doctors" who know nothing of medicine. In its technical sense doctor is a university degree, the highest given. It is given in recognition of attainments in many branches of learning, and so there are several kinds of doctors. There is the familiar M. D., doctor of medicine; the LL. D., doctor of laws; the Ph. D., doctor of philosophy; the D. D., doctor of divinity; the J. D., doctor of jurisprudence; the D. D. S., doctor of dental surgery, and many another. So if you hear a man referred to as "doctor" you must find out what he is doctor of before you can determine to which profession he belongs.

Doctor of laws seems to have been the earliest of the doctors' degrees, it having been awarded as early as the twelfth century. Doctors of divinity appeared somewhat later. It was a century before the now familiar M. D. (doctor of medicine) came into use.

GAVE THEM OBJECT LESSON

German Audience Gathered to Learn
"How World Is Deceived," and They Found Out.

Germany, home of Kopernich and its illustrious impersonators of military officers, still revels in impostures. Here is the newest: Posters stuck up all over the village of Dahldorf, near Halle, recently announced "How the World Is Deceived." About midday five actors appeared at the large hall of the village inn, where the performance was to be given, and after disposing of a five-course luncheon spent the afternoon in rehearsing and arranging the properties.

At the appointed hour the hall was well filled, and the people waited very patiently for at least 30 minutes. Noises from behind the curtain seemed to promise an early beginning, and when the limelight was turned on the promise seemed still nearer the fulfillment. But the delay continued, and the audience grew impatient, some of the members peeping behind the scenes and others going to the door to see the manager.

There was no manager and there was no one behind the scenes. The five actors had given a too realistic version of "How the World Is Deceived" and were now many miles away, with all the receipts in their pockets.

POET ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD.

Francois Fertiault, the oldest living poet, completed his one-hundredth year a few days ago, when he received a delegation from the Society of Literary Men, whose president, Georges Le Comte, presented him with an eighteenth century gold medal, made a speech of congratulation, and unveiled a portrait bust by the sculptor Bernstamm. Fertiault was born in Burgundy, and has lived in Paris sixty-three years. He began writing at the age of seventeen, and purposes to publish an autumn book of verses entitled, "A Hundred Years." Last year the cross of the Legion of Honor was given him at the Sorbonne before five thousand people.—Paris Dispatch to New York Times.

GOOD JOKE ON COMMUTER

New England Man Bound for Salem Boarded Boston Express and Came Back in a Hurry.

A well-known citizen whose duties take him to Salem daily, was the victim of absent-mindedness last week and admits that the laugh is on himself. He generally takes the special electric from his home which reaches the station about 8:10 o'clock, giving him about 10 minutes to look over the news of the morning before the train is due. On the morning in question, soon after he left his house a friend in an automobile overtook him and invited him to ride to the station. He reached the station a few minutes before eight o'clock, and, purchasing a paper, went inside to look it over as usual.

After he had been there the usual time he heard a train come in, and not realizing that he was on hand 15 minutes or so earlier than usual, went out and boarded the train. He continued his reading and did not notice that the train did not make any stops until Salem tunnel was reached, when he arose to leave. Much to his surprise the train showed no signs of coming to a stop, and he remarked to the conductor, who happened to be close by, "Aren't we going to stop at Salem?"

"No," was the response, "this is an express which does not stop between Magnolia and Boston." It suddenly dawned on the man that he had not considered his early arrival at the Gloucester station, and had taken the express and was being carried through to Boston. By making a lively sprint on reaching Boston, however, he was enabled to get the nine o'clock Portland express back to Salem, and reached his office less than half an hour late, having made the trip from his home at East Gloucester to Boston and return to Salem in less than an hour and a half.—Gloucester Times.

HASTY MARRIAGE

Clerk at Marriage License Bureau
—What's the lady's first name?
Prospective Bridegroom—Heavens, man! I never thought to ask her.

SELF-KNOWLEDGE.

"Which of the two sisters do you find the most beautiful, Max?"
"I don't know."
"Well, which of the two would you like to marry?"
"That, also, I don't know. But this I do know—that if I married one, I should find the other the most beautiful."—Lustige Blaetter (Berlin).

THE REASON.

"Your parrot uses such big words."
"I thought it the natural way to begin by teaching her polly-syllables."

QUERY.

Trooper—I've got to attend rifle practise tonight.
Friend—Are you learning to be a pick-pocket?—Judge

WOULD WANT MORE.

She—What would you do if some one should leave you $100,000?
He—I suppose I'd begin to realize how little $100,000 really is.

RUIED EXPECTATIONS.

"We have such bad luck!"
"What's the matter now?"
"My husband's rich old uncle who was ill is getting well."

JUST THE ONE.

"We want a young fellow of some staying power in this business."
"Then I can heartily recommend my daughter's beau."

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

It is a time of great events, and you will want the news accurately and promptly. All the countries of the world steadily draw closer together, and the telegraph wires bring the happenings of every one. No other newspaper has a service equal to that of The World and it relates everything fully and promptly.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and any body can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that it to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well-known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa. Advertisement.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

PENGUINS ON HUNGER STRIKE

Foolish Birds, Emulating Suffragettes, Have to Be Forcibly Fed at London Zoo.

Nineteen young penguins at the London zoological gardens have begun a "hunger strike." Like the militant suffragists, they refuse food, and have to be forcibly fed.

The resemblance of penguins to human beings has been noticed by every explorer in regions frequented by these quaint creatures.

"This," wrote Dr. James Murray, the scientific member of Sir Ernest Shackleton's antarctic expedition of 1907-1909, "is partly due to the habit of walking erect; but there are truly a great many human traits about them."

The trouble at the "zoo" is that nobody there understands the penguin language. Yet Dr. Murray is convinced that the penguins have powers of speech, and he describes a "palaver" he witnessed, when an "old man" bird made a long speech, "in a muttering manner, short sounds following in groups of four or five." The doctor, to whom the speech was addressed, confesses that he did not understand a word of it, but the penguin was very patient and repeated it all over again with no better results.

No doubt the young penguins at the "zoo" have been telling their keeper all about their reasons for going on "hunger strike," but, alas, he does not understand a word of their speech. So he has resorted to forcible feeding. The latest bulletin states that they are "doing well" under the treatment, and it is hoped they will come to reason before long.

Among the "hunger strikers" are rare specimens from the Falkland islands.

HER TEETH BLOWN OUT.

Biting on a torpedo she took to be candy, Marion Quackenbush, seven years old, of Cornwall, N. Y., lost six teeth when the dynamite cap exploded. Her lips, mouth, and throat were lacerated. Her condition is critical.

She is the daughter of Floyd Quackenbush. She found the cap, which her brother had brought from the West Shore railroad tracks, and kept biting on it until it went off. She was hurled to the ground unconscious. Her brother quickly procured medical aid, and the wounded youngster was revived.

NOT SO FAMILIAR.

"Do your employers treat you like one of the family?"

"Oh, dear, no! I'd never stand for their swearing at me."

PROFESSIONAL INTEREST.

"Why are people advised to tell their troubles to a policeman?"

"Because it is easy to arrest his attention."

PARADOXICAL.

"Jones looks as if he had been in a fight."

"Oh, no; he merely attended a peace conference."

DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.

She—Oh, there goes Peggy Brown. Isn't she lovely? I wish I was half as good looking!

He—Oh, but you are!

QUICKLY UNDERSTOOD.

BEST TIME TO TAKE A MATE

Authoress of Opinion That Women Should Marry Somewhere About the Age of Thirty.

Marjorie Benton Cooke, author of "Daisy," submitted to an interview by a New York newspaper woman the other day, in which she said:

"The girl of eighteen marries a man because she's mad about him. The woman of twenty-eight marries because she wants a chum. Of the two unions I believe that the second is much more likely to result in lasting happiness."

"The woman who doesn't marry till she is nearly thirty has found out what loneliness means. Or she has seen women fifty or sixty years old with no one to companion them and a black future almost upon them. She has said to herself with a shiver, 'I may be like that!' So she marries a man with whom she can be good friends and who, on his part, asks nothing more than she has to give."

"Or if she doesn't find that sort of man and remains unmarried. There are conditions prescribed by some husbands which fill with disgust the economically independent woman. Once to have filled your own pocket-book with the proceeds of your own work is to have tasted blood, you know."

"The modern woman demands so much more of a husband than the woman of a generation ago. It's not merely that she wants a fairer financial status, but she requires intellectual companionship and more cleanness."

"Why are you hanging around the mouth of that pitcher?"
"Merely professional interest. I'm taking a night course in dentistry, and I thought I'd merely look into every mouth I see."

QUIET.

Quiet is for the rich. It is an item to be placed under the head of "The High Cost of Living."

Quiet for the poor? They ain't none.

This absence of noise stays secreted in large mansions, in expensive hospital quarters and magnificent hotel suites. It walks forth only when lured by money in tan bark and enormous tips to the traveling, screaming public and to traffic which only then refrains from racking every nerve to the verge of insanity.

Most of the inventions of the Evil One are the result of research in the realm of noise and clutter.

THE REAL TROUBLE.

Rankin—When Beunbrough's wife scolded him for gambling he told her he was more sinned against than sinning.

Phyle—What did she say to that?
Rankin—She told Beunbrough the trouble with him was that he was more winned against than winning.

PRESUMPTIVE EVIDENCE.

"Is he completely under his wife's dominion?"

"I guess so. He wears a bathing suit that she made for him."—Puck

SOME SHORT STEPPER.

"My, Farmer Hornihand, your horse is a short stepper!"

"Yeah. He can trot all day in the shadder of a mullein stalk."

HER RIVAL.

"What has become of that talking machine you had?"

"Had to get rid of it; it made my wife jealous."

ABOUT THIS TIME OF YEAR.

Father—How do you mean your checkbook is crazy?

Son—It's unbalanced, that's all.—Xale Record.

GREATEST OF SHOWS

The Ringling Brothers' Circus Showed Yesterday With Ideal Weather.

WAS USUAL GREAT CROWD.

City Packed With People And Street Parade Was Three Miles Long.

Yesterday was show day in town and Ringling Brothers' "World's Greatest Shows" held the prime center of attraction. From their arrival early in the morning twilight until their departure late into the night, the rambling of the wagons, the majestic trend of the mighty horses and the jostling of the crowd bespoke emphatically the characteristics of show day.

The equipment began to arrive at five o'clock in the morning, when the first train from Nashville pulled in at the Tennessee Central freight yards. Four other trains arrived in quick succession, a new one pulling in as soon as the former was unloaded. At seven o'clock the acres of canvas that composed the "big top" began to rise and in a short time the auditorium for the display of the scenic splendors was ready. Wagons and cages began to arrive, the thousands of seats were soon constructed, and all was in readiness for the great parade that was billed to commence at 10 o'clock.

The parade, by many considered to be almost as integral a part of the circus as the show proper, began at the Pennyroyal Fair grounds, where the big top had been erected, and came down Main street, wound round through the business section, and went back Virginia street. The brass bands played their usual martial music; the gilded cages, the prancing charges all were there. In fact, from the ladies in the high silk hats to the merry jibbering clowns, it was the same old street parade that brought back the days of red lemonade and colored pop corn.

The huge crowd, encouraged by the ideal weather began to pour into the town early. Long before the time of the magnificent street parade, the streets were thronged with the usual happy, joyous, jostling throng. The side walks soon began to be crowded, first around the edges, then more and more toward the center, until soon it became necessary to elbow ones way through. Reserved seat tickets had been placed on sale at the Anderson-Fowler Drug store, and even early in the day a good sale had begun.

The ideal weather conditions insured large crowds at both performances, and the show, which was bigger, better and grander than ever, delighted the large assemblage of

THREE RAIDS IN ONE NIGHT

Burglars Made The Rounds In Morton's Gap Monday Night.

A bold though unsuccessful attempt at robbing occurred at Morton's Gap, Hopkins county, on Monday night. Some time during the night, it is not definitely known when, marauders broke into the Planters' Bank of Morton's Gap. They were unable to obtain anything here except a 41 calibre Colts pistol and left, next entering the Post office. Here they stole two or three dollars in pennies and stamps. The L. & N. ticket office was also entered, a small safe taken out, and carried back into the freight house. Here they tried unsuccessfully to open it, battering it up considerably, but obtaining nothing.

The robbers left no evident clues, and it is not known how many were in the party. It has not as yet been ascertained who will take up the effort for their capture.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. B. Chilton and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller, of Eldysville came up to the circus.

Miss Lillie Hester has gone to Louisville to enter Paris Rest, the Baptist home for ladies.

Mrs. Walter Knight and little son have returned from Howell.

Spindle-McRoberts.

Miss Letty Mae McRoberts and Mr. Richard Buckner Spindle, Jr., were married at the Christian church in Lancaster Tuesday evening. The bride is a grand-daughter of the late Dr. R. W. Ware, being the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McRoberts. She is a highly educated and accomplished young woman, a talent musician, a graduate of Randolph-Macon and her accomplishments have been broadened by foreign travel.

The groom is a member of a leading law firm of Norfolk, Va.

Flourished a Gun.

Sanders Bronaugh, col., went on the warpath at Judge W. T. Fowler's farm Tuesday morning and Deputy Sheriff, Herbert Johnson, went out and brought him in. He is charged with flourishing a pistol and threatening to kill the rest of the hands on the place.

GOV. WILLSON ON MONDAY

Will Be The Speaker at a Big Republican Rally at The Tabernacle.

Hon. A. E. Willson, former Governor, and the Republican nominee for Senator, will speak at the Tabernacle next Monday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. The occasion will be made an old-fashioned Republican rally and an invitation is extended to everybody to come out and hear the distinguished leader of his party. The Third Regiment band will furnish music for the occasion. Gov. Willson is very popular in Hopkinsville and Christian county and never fails to have a big crowd to hear him.

Journalist Bought Suez. The journalist is often the man behind the statesman, but he seldom gets the credit. Who was it that induced Mr. Disraeli to buy the Suez canal shares which have proved so abundantly good an investment, with dividends that are represented not only by money, though even from that point of view it is the best investment that a state has ever made? Fleet street knows and honors the name of Mr. Frederick Greenwood, both for that reason and for many another. But how many outside the world of journalism realize that but for Mr. Greenwood the Suez canal shares would probably have been purchased by a rival continental power? The question was one of those put in a "general intelligence" examination paper a little time back at a certain school. Only one boy was able to answer it correctly, and he was the son of the prime minister.—London Chronicle.

Ruskin's Grocery Adventure.

From time to time in the last few years various men and women of prominence have gone into the grocery business to give the poor a chance to buy small quantities at the same rate as those for which their richer brothers buy large quantities. Usually these plans have failed, for some reason or other. This was the case with Ruskin's grocery, for Ruskin himself found it expedient to close it. For, said he, the poor like their groceries "brilliantly lighted and eloquently ticketed," and he would compete neither with "gas nor rhetoric."

Lawn Party.

There will be a lawn party at Black Jack School House, Saturday, Oct. 24th. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

DON'T STOP--KEEP AT IT.

The war across the pond has affected business a little but not enough to cause the people of this good old commonwealth to go into despondency and stop the usual way of making use of the advantages and the luxuries that most every one has been enjoying. Just now there has been a little talk of quiet business. If your business is quiet advertise. If it is good keep advertising. It is the only way to let the outside world know what you have to offer to the market.

If the other fellow asks how is business, say "fine" and it won't be long 'till you really think so yourself and get busy advertising and you will see where you win.

Now let's all get together and push, advertise and "don't stop"—"keep at it."

HERE THREE NIGHTS

The Original William Irvine Fayssoux, To Appear Next Week.

The announcement of the forth coming engagement of Fayssoux, the youthful prodigy, whose achievements in mental telepathy and hypnotism have been the talk of the large cities of the country for years will be received with uncommon interest. His demonstrations in the occult sciences surpass the most fantastic marvels attributed to the parapsychists and metaphysicians of the Hindu temples.

The human mind is to Fayssoux an open book, which he reads with unerring accuracy. The mind reading exploits of the telepathists, spirit mediums, and other charlatans whose fakes have excited wonder because of the cleverness of the imposters who have been practicing before the public for years, are eclipsed by the bone fide demonstrations of the Great Fayssoux. The marvelous exhibitions Fayssoux gives convinces the most skeptical of his extraordinary psychic art.

He submits to tests that prove beyond the shadow of doubt that his performances are absolutely genuine and above reproach.

Fayssoux will begin an engagement of three nights at Holland's Opera House, commencing Monday night, Oct. 25. His performances are unlike anything ever before presented to the American public. The audience is alternately convulsed with mirth, stricken with awe, and bewildered by the ever changing character of the entertainment.
